IOOF awarded ‘Best Multi-Sector Fund’ and ‘Best Australian Shares Super Product’

IOOF is pleased to announce it has received two awards in the Money magazine Best of the Best awards 2021. The IOOF MultiMix Balanced Growth Trust was named the winner of the ‘Best Multi-Sector Fund’ category and the IOOF MultiMix Australian Shares Trust won the category of ‘Best Australian Shares Super Product’.

For 21 years Money magazine has conducted the Best of the Best Awards. The awards identify the financial products and services with the best value that have excelled either overall or in specific product categories.

These award wins follow the recognition of IOOF in the 2020 Money Management Fund Manager of the Year Awards, where IOOF’s MySuper default offering, the IOOF Balanced Investor Trust, won the Multi Asset – Balanced fund category.

IOOF’s Chief Investment Officer, Dan Farmer, said:

“This is the second year in a row that the IOOF MultiMix Balanced Growth Trust has been crowned winner of the ‘Best Multi-Sector Fund’ category.”

“This recognition is a testament to our continued commitment to create and provide quality investment solutions that support and help our clients create financial wellbeing.

“Our unwavering focus on active management and asset allocation has enabled the portfolios to perform well and thrive in challenging market environments and conditions – especially over the last one and three years, and through both the medium to longer term.

“2020 has been an incredibly volatile and difficult year for many active managers. However, IOOF’s flexibility in asset allocation and our team’s dedication to rigorous strategy review and development, have allowed us to deliver great performance to our clients despite the prevailing challenges, which is something we’re really proud of.”
